
Values Education

In February, our school Value is CREATIVITY

This links closely to the "Love Learning" part of our Mission Statement. We have looked at bible stories which reflect God's creative nature and reflected on our own inbuilt creativity in making and mending things.

We have also thought about creative thinking and how this links to having fun with our learning and devloping our higher level thinking skills.

Please continue to let us know about any opportunities or situations which have arisen at home which reflect understanding of the values we are focusing on (a slip is attached) - so we can celebrate this in school.

Values Education Feedback – please tick (as relevant) if your child has shared any information with you about our "Value of the Month".

My child has:

Talked about the Value of the Month

Demonstrated understanding of the value

Remembered an activity or story from school relating to the value

Do you have any comments?
